Dear friends,

Kem Chho! These two words convey not just warm greetings from we all at organising committee of NCPIID -2018, but also our eagerness to extend a hearty welcome to you to Ahmedabad, the first World Heritage city of India.

The theme of this conference is Microbes to Mankind. It will cover the main topics from bugs to drugs, infection prevention and immunization to diagnosis and management. Well-designed workshops, pre-conference CME with perfectly balanced scientific deliberations from the eminent faculties across the country will be the highlight of the conference.

Spacious and luxurious venue of YMCA will prove the perfect platform for we Paediatricians, from near and far off places, to socialize and to soak in science.

We are passionately putting our all efforts to make the conference a perfect blend of education and entertainment. The banquet and musical evening will be full of magic and masti with some real surprises! Be prepared to sway and spin on traditional tunes and drumbeats and try to tip-toe your foot-steps with claps of garba and dandiya dances.

And there are some more reasons to descend down to this land of Mahatma Gandhi. Not just the sight-seeing in this happening city but there are enough attractions to visit in the state. This list is long like the plethora of antibiotics! For both, we will help you to choose the right one!

So once again, welcome to our Gujarati hospitality, with a classic fusion of the feast of academics and the flurry of festivities.

Team NCPIID 2018
